Bringing our community together

Distributed FREE via USPS to almost 6000 households, businesses, and post office boxes in the greater Cloverdale area every month

September 2021

Artist: Joe Cotruvo

Editor's Note

Happy Fall Y'all! It's time for the 27th Annual Car Show on Saturday, September 11th and a chance to enjoy a pancake breakfast at the Senior Center, a screening of Wayne's World at the "drive in" movies, along with all the usual festivities that accompany the event. While you're out on Saturday, drop by Good Shepherd Church and see their beautiful new stained-glass windows, check out the Skull Krusher at W Real Estate, and then go to Yvette Wendt Photography's grand opening celebration – you just might win a prize.

This September edition is packed with so much news and information that we have expanded to 20 pages to accommodate everything that's going on in Cloverdale. Hard to believe that a little over a year ago, Cloverdale Connect was just 8 pages – thank you to the entire Cloverdale community for supporting us and helping us grow.

Don't forget to vote by September 14th – just mail in your ballot to the Sonoma County Registrar of Voters. And in the meantime, do what you can to protect your health and the health of your loved ones.

What is Going on at the Senior Center? Melanie Hall

Have you or a loved one tested positive for Covid? If so, you know how physically and mentally challenging it is to get through the 14 days and maybe longer of quarantine. The effects of this virus can be devastating and long-lasting. I believe that all who can vaccinate should. We need to do it for each other because we care about our community, county, state, country, and humankind. I am Covid weary, I'm tired of wearing my mask, but this is not over yet. So, for now, I am vaccinated, will get a booster when it is time and will continue to wear my mask because I care about you and me.

The Senior Center is working with the County and Curative to provide a test site for our community. Every Tuesday, 8:00-1:30, the Curative Mobile Unit is here for self-administered Covid testing. Curative recommends making appointments at Curative.com.

Visitors coming to the Senior Center must show proof of their vaccination, as it is a requirement to go inside the building. In addition, masks are required while in the building unless eating or drinking.

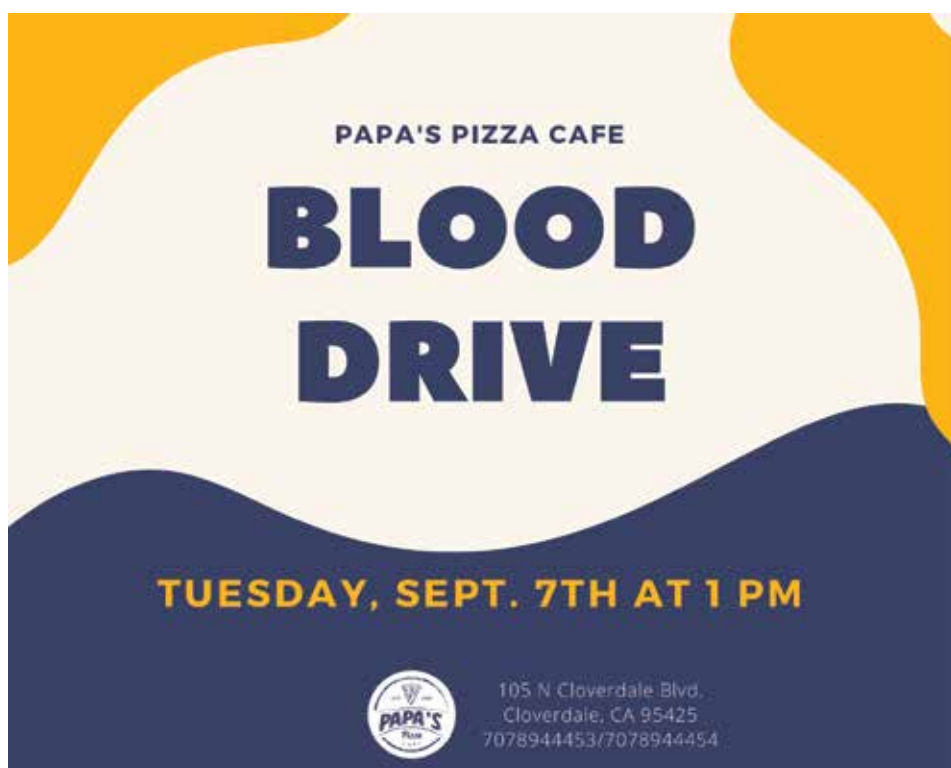

September 11, 8-12, the Center will be preparing a pancake breakfast to start your day off right before the Car and Motorcycle Show. Price is $8, 10 years and up, $5 for ages 4-9, and ages three and under are free. We hope to see you there.

On a very happy note, Senior Center member Ann Gillis will turn 101 years young in September. We are throwing her a party to celebrate on September 14, 4-6 p.m. Please RSVP by September 8.

September 24, 10-12, we will host a flu shot clinic here at the Center. Please call to reserve your appointment.

Ceres Community Project presentation will take place on Tuesday, September 28, 10-11. Ceres provides medically tailored meals to meet the nutritional needs of people with chronic and acute illnesses. Meals are free or low-cost, depending on your income level.

To find out more about any of these activities, please call the Center at 707-894-4826.

Papa's Pizza - Michele Armanino

Have a hankering for a hot, bubbly pizza, juicy ribs, tangy chicken wings or a garden salad all made fresh from local ingredients? Papa's Pizza, owned and operated by Mike and Denaire Nixon, will satisfy your cravings. Cozy up to the bar, sip some local wines and sample beers on tap.

The freshest ingredients for Papa's menu are locally sourced by nearby distributors. "Our staff arrives every morning at 8 a.m., slices locally grown vegetables, makes fresh dough and our own marinara sauce." Denaire said. The result is a menu with a variety of scrumptious, soft crust Italian pizzas. To sip along with your pizza, Wilson, Mercury, Ramazzotti and J. Rickards are popular wine choices and, there are ten beers on tap, four of which are IPAs selected by Jessica Wilson, the restaurant's beer sommelier.

In 2015, the Nixons purchased the building that houses the restaurant's current location on N. Cloverdale Blvd. Twenty-two year old Mike acquired Papa's Pizza in 1993 when it was located on First Street. "It took one year to fix up the new location but we tripled our sit-down business," Denaire said. Ribs, wings and salads have been added to the menu. The restaurant now has a generator, a giant conveyor oven and a newly done patio for private parties featuring a unique metal lattice fence designed by Sam Beeson.

When the October 2019 fires dangerously encroached on Cloverdale, Denaire and Mike, without electricity in the restaurant, were sure to lose all their food supplies. Emptying their freezers and refrigerators, they barbecued ribs and cooked nearly 300 pizzas in their parking lot, offering free food to anyone who needed it. In December of 2020, the Nixons, including sons Elliott and Harrison, who also work at Papa's, through Facebook, raised $5,000, matching donations, for the Cloverdale Food Pantry. In addition, they continue to support many of the children's sports programs in town.

"I want to thank the community of Cloverdale." Denaire heartily said. "Because of their support throughout the Pandemic, we were able to keep all our employees, because people ate pizza!!"

3 & 4 PRE-EVACUATION PREPARATION STEPS

When an evacuation is anticipated, follow these checklists (if time allows) to give your home the best chance of surviving a wildfire:

OUTSIDE THE HOUSE

- 1 Gather up flammable items from the exterior of the house and bring them inside (patio furniture, children's toys, door mats, trash cans, etc.) or place them in your pool.
- 2 Turn off propane tanks.
- 3 Move propane BBQ appliances away from structures.
- 4 Connect garden hoses to outside water valves or spigots for use by firefighters. Fill water buckets and place them around the house.

- 5 Don't leave sprinklers on or water running; they can affect critical water pressure.
- 6 Leave exterior lights on so your home is visible to firefighters in the smoke or darkness of night.
- 7 Put your Emergency Supply Kit in your vehicle.
- 8 Back your car into the driveway with vehicle loaded and all doors and windows closed. Carry your car keys with you.
- 9 Have a ladder available and place it at the corner of the house for firefighters to quickly access your roof.
- 10 Seal attic and ground vents with pre-cut plywood or commercial seals.
- 11 Monitor your property and the fire situation. Don't wait for an evacuation order if you feel threatened and need to leave.
- 12 Check on neighbors and make sure they are preparing to leave.

INSIDE THE HOUSE

- 13 Shut all windows and doors, leaving them unlocked.
- 14 Remove flammable window shades and curtains. Close metal shutters.
- 15 Move flammable furniture to the center of the room, away from windows and doors.
- 16 Shut off gas at the meter. Turn off pilot lights.
- 17 Leave your lights on so firefighters can see your house under smoky conditions.
- 18 Shut off the air conditioning.
- 19 Locate your pets and keep them nearby.
- 20 Prepare farm animals for transport and think about moving them to a safe location early.

Livestock Powered Fire Hazard Reduction

Companies like Falk Livestock in Stewarts Point offer professional livestock services for large-scale projects. With a herd of over 600 Katahdin sheep that can be brought to your property for grazing - an effective method for fire risk management. They start with a minimum of 300-400 sheep for projects 50 acres or more and scale up depending on the size of the property, the amount available to graze, and the goals of the project.

Sheep and goats are an ecological-friendly way to reduce fire fuels in natural areas such as ranches, nature preserves, California State Parks, and rural communities. By preventing fuel build-up, targeted grazing can minimize the risk of fire hazard. Using livestock to eat grass, brush, and other foliage reduces the chance of a fire breaking out and means there is less fuel to burn, making any fire less intense.

Falk Livestock's sheep graze in a traditional 'mob' style with many animals grouped together. The herd eats between 30-70 percent of the biomass available in a pasture or field. As they graze, their hooves press a percentage of the biomass into the ground, allowing water to absorb into the earth and protecting the soil from erosion.

Transmission Trouble?

One early sign of transmission trouble is the smell of burning transmission fluid, which indicates that the transmission is overheating. Transmission fluid not only lubricates, it also removes the heat of friction to an oil cooler (mini-radiator). Most automatic transmission fluids are designed to operate at about 175 degrees F. At higher temperatures, the fluid oxidizes, turns brown, and begins to exhibit a burning odor. As the fluid's lubricating qualities and friction characteristics become compromised, varnish begins to form on internal parts such as the valve body. In addition, rubber seals harden, leaks form, and the transmission begins to slip. In time, the clutches burn out, and the transmission fails. We know that a regularly scheduled maintenance is less money, time, and headache. That's why our ASE-certified technicians provide the preventative maintenance that can stop transmission trouble before it makes a big stink.

Money-Saving Tips from a Flight Attendant

Fly First, Not Last – When flight attendants travel on stand-by, they generally try to get on the first flight of the day, and you should too. It may be early, but these flights are usually cheaper because fewer people voluntarily pay to wake up and travel to an airport before 7 a.m. If you're looking to arrive on time, choose the first flight of the day for that specific airplane. Chances are it remained overnight at the airport, therefore your plane is already in position for your flight. Airlines try extremely hard not to delay an aircraft's first flight of the day because it'll cause a ripple effect for all of the flights that specific airplane will operate for the rest of the day.

Miles Aren't Just For Round Trip Tickets

One of the biggest perks of joining an airlines' loyalty program, aside from earning elite status, is the ability to accrue miles that you can cash in for free flights. Over the past few years, the industry has drastically changed how those miles are earned, dropping the one mile earned for one mile flown formula and transitioning to miles earned per dollar spent. However, when it comes to redeeming those miles, everyone is on an even playing field. The most common thought is to exchange miles for a free round-trip ticket, but many don't realize you can use your miles for a 50 percent discount on a round-trip reservation.

"Helping pet lovers live their best life"

"Fire Season" is an unfortunate reality in today's world. Are you prepared? Here are five tips to help keep you and your pets safe.

- 1) Personality Knowing your pet's personality will help you better plan an evacuation strategy. Skittish dogs and cats will hide and be difficult to catch at the last minute. Keep them confined if evacuation is a possibility.
- 2) Supplies Stock up ahead of time. Remember the crazy lines at the gas stations and the empty toilet paper shelves at every store? Have an easy to access stash of pet food, meds, water, and anything else you may need.
- 3) Identification SUPER important as pets can become lost in the confusion of disasters. A collar with ID tag and registered microchip will increase the chances of your pet being returned to you.
- 4) Transport Does your pet travel well? Cats must be in a carrier, and dogs should be in the cab or in a secure crate in the back of a truck.
- 5) Location Arrange a place to evacuate now before disaster strikes. Ask a friend or relative in a different area if you and your pets can stay in the event of an emergency.

Meet World's Youngest Pro Monster Truck Driver Beverlee Laird

Thirteen-year-old Shane Plato, "Skull Krusher", from Cloverdale has been amazing crowds at shows, mostly in California, since he was 5 and driving a 1/3 scale truck. After driving a 1/2 scale truck for several years, with the support of his parents Charlene & Lee Plato, owners of Healdsburg Collision, Shane advanced to a full-scale truck in June at a show in Santa Maria. At his recent show in Chico, he performed a "stoppie" after coming over a jump, placing the truck upright on the two front tires. Of course, the crowd loves him—especially the kids! Before many of the shows they have "pit parties" where you can see the trucks up close. His impressive truck is a 10,000 pound behemoth with 1,500 horsepower and 5 1/2 ft tall tires! Shane always has a line of families wanting to meet him & get an autograph. When he's not driving his truck doing wheelies, stoppies, and wowing the crowds, Shane enjoys hanging out with his friends, playing football, baseball, and basketball. Stop by the W Real Estate parking lot, at 114 Lake Street, during the car show on September 11 to meet Shane and see his truck "Skull Krusher".

Red Foods: Healthy for the Heart Gina Berry, MS, RD, CLT

Last month we talked about eating a rainbow of foods to get a variety of nutrients to help keep you healthy. Vitamin A, for example, is orange and is found in carrots, mango, papaya, and apricots. This month we focus on red foods such as tomatoes, red bell peppers, watermelon, strawberries, cherries, and raspberries. Red fruits and vegetables contain phytonutrients called anthocyanins and lycopene, which give them their red hue. These phytonutrients reduce inflammation, fight viruses, protect against heart disease, and improve the immune system. Phytochemicals found in red foods also help safeguard against prostate, cervical, and lung cancers. Anthocyanins are powerful antioxidants that offer antimicrobial and anti-inflammatory effects. Lycopene is especially useful as it can help the body move fat away from the intestines and blood vessels, keeping it away from the heart. Red foods are not just the color of your heart, they help protect it too! The bioavailability of lycopene is actually enhanced by cooking, so be sure to include a little marinara sauce or salsa roja in your meal planning! Remember to eat the rainbow everyday so that you can boost your immune system and protect your heart.

Cloverdale Car & Motorcycle Show Returns Mary Jo Winter

The 27th Annual Cloverdale Car & Motorcycle Show is slated to run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 11 in downtown Cloverdale.

Did you know the opening of the Cloverdale Bypass was the impetus for this popular annual event?

Three days before the official ribbon cutting ceremony on March 2, 1994, pedestrians, horses, llamas, bicyclists, roller skaters, skateboarders and others were invited to stroll up and down the northbound lanes of the soon-to-open highway for several hours. The southbound lanes were reserved for a small parade of antique automobiles.

After having Highway 101 cut through the center of town for so many years, it was time for a celebration. Originally dubbed "Take Back the Street," the name was soon changed to the "Cloverdale Street Celebration," with the first event taking place two weeks later on March 15.

The Chamber sponsored a contest to find an appropriate logo for t-shirts commemorating the event. Laurie Siebenthal submitted the winning design (right below), which highlighted the area's amenities, like vineyards, the river, the Geysers, and the new highway going around town, while Al Delsid's limited edition tongue-in-cheek design pointed out the "30-year detour."

The original all-day celebration included a Car Rally between 1st and 3rd Streets, a Sidewalk Art Show, Merchant Sidewalk Sales, Karate Demonstrations, Face Painting, Bingo, a Dunk Tank, Farmers Market, Food, Beer & Wine Tasting, Storytelling & Puppets, an Oklahoma skit and music, music, music.

Over the years, as the event grew, the name was changed again to the Cloverdale Car & Motorcycle Show.

This year's celebration begins with a Pancake Breakfast from 8 a.m. to Noon at the Cloverdale Senior Center and ends at the Citrus Fair with the Alexander Valley Film Society's twilight Drive-In screening of "Wayne's World."

Railbiking on the Skunk Train Route

In the early 1880s, lumbermen C.R. Johnson, Calvin Stewart, and James Hunter joined together to expand timber operations in Mendocino County. By 1885 the Fort Bragg Railroad was formed to make transporting lumber easier and played a vital role transporting families and workers who set up logging camps along the route.

The nickname "Skunk" originated in 1925, when motorcars were introduced. These single unit, self-propelled motorcars had gasoline-powered engines for power and pot-bellied stoves burning crude oil to keep the passengers warm. The combination of the fumes created a very pungent odor, and the old timers living along the line said these motorcars were like skunks, "You could smell them before you could see them."

California Western Railroad was initially operated as a division of the Fort Bragg mill (Union Lumber Company, Boise-Cascade). In the mid-1960s, Arizona-based Kyle Railways began managing the railroad and purchased it in 1987. In August 1996, a group comprised entirely of local Mendocino Coast investors purchased California Western, marking the first time in its 111-year history that the line would be operated as an independent business. Today the Skunk Train is owned and operated by Mendocino Railway.

Electric-powered and virtually silent, the custom-built, patent pending, two-person railbikes breeze along the world-famous Redwood Route, along scenic Pudding Creek, over majestic wooden trestle bridges, and into the heart of the ancient redwoods of Mendocino County.

Disembark at Glen Blair Junction for a 50-minute layover to enjoy a picnic or hike deeper into the redwoods. The Railbikes Explorer Package includes fare for two people on a side-by-side railbike, with a certified guide leading you on the historic Skunk railroad from the coast to Glen Blair Junction. It's a one and a half or two hours round trip starting at Fort Bragg.

The new train and railbike calendar is now online www.skunktrain.com so begin planning your trip now to explore the world-famous Redwood Route. The Skunk Train continues to observe best practices for sanitization, social distancing, and mask adherence aboard both the trains and railbikes, and will always prioritize the safety of staff, guests, and community.

Members of the Cloverdale Interact Club were on hand to greet new and returning students at the annual Cloverdale High School Roundup. The Roundup is an orientation and familiarization program as the start of school approaches. Interact is for high school students who put service high on their agenda. Rotary's Robert Redner (standing) joined the Interact members.

Insurance Moratoriums Stall the Escrow Process

Anne Miserlian Baker

As we get further into fire season, we risk the threat of insurance moratoriums. What does this all mean to you? This means if you are in the middle of purchasing a home (in escrow) then a moratorium could add days and weeks to your closing. The seller may not be willing to wait.

What is an insurance moratorium? If there is a wildfire in your zip code, chances are high that insurance companies will stop issuing policies. Consequently, if you are in the middle of buying a home and your insurance agent hasn't bound your policy, you will not be able to close escrow until the moratorium has ended.

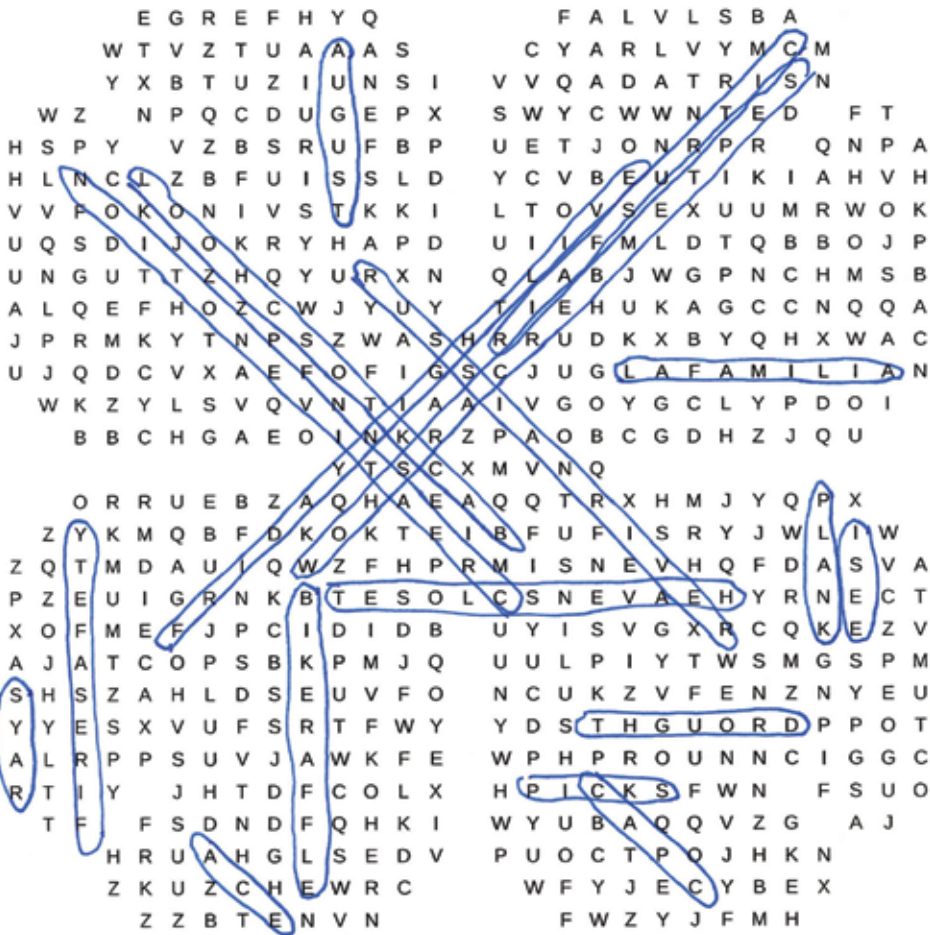

What can you do to prevent the stall of your home purchase? Purchase homeowners insurance as soon as you are in contract. You can bind your insurance policy ahead of time with a future effective date to take place on your scheduled closing date. Binding insurance is a promise of insurance by the insurance company. Ask your insurance agent or your lender for the binder.

If you do not get your insurance bound ahead of time and a moratorium is put into place, an appraiser will need to return and confirm the house is still standing after the moratorium has ended. This can add a week or more to your anticipated closing date.

It's very important that you stay in contact with your real estate agent and ask lots of questions.

Homeowner Tip: Review your homeowners insurance policy with your insurance agent because rebuilding costs have gone up significantly within the last 12 months.

What's Rockin' in the Coffee Business?

Michele Armanino

Relax, there's no danger involved when you drive up to the jungle themed Rockin' A Adventure Café at 1313 S. Cloverdale Blvd. No chance of getting bitten by a viper or dangling perilously off a cliff while falling into a booby trap! You are just going to experience some very tasty coffee and tea drinks.

Five years ago, Trevor Ambrosini, twenty-six, moved from Humboldt County to Cloverdale to help his dad, Earl, a general contractor, build the existing gas station on the open lot at So. Cloverdale Blvd. The proprietor of the gas station wanted a donut/coffee shop on the premises and Trevor had always hoped to own a themed business. Enter Ambrosini with his self-constructed, brown-shingled, adventure-styled mobile trailer, ready for action!

Ambrosini's great grandparents emigrated from Italy to Ferndale to start a dairy farm. To brand their cows, they used an iron with an imprinted "A" that sat above two curved lines resembling a rocker. Trevor honored his grandparents by naming his café, The Rockin' A Adventure Café.

"When we started the cafe, we thought we would mostly attract travelers off the freeway. But ninety percent of our customers are locals. One lady enjoys her daily triple shot, white mocha banana lattes so much that another customer thought we should name the drink after her!"

"It's not just about the coffee," Trevor pointed out. "Even though it's only three minutes out of your day, it's all about the experience. Buying coffee should be the least stressful thing that you do on a daily basis. What makes our Café inviting is that we offer as many as fifty coffee and soda flavors. You could actually have a different drink every day of the year!" The Café's thoughtful drink menu also includes great choices for kids, including smoothies and Italian sodas. Some fun Halloween happenings are in Trevor's crystal ball, where cider chais and a mobile pumpkin patch will be included in the town's fall festivities. A themed family style restaurant is on his bucket list, too. Now, you just know that's going to be a Rockin' place!

The Creative Corner Christy Latchford

Once again, my mama is correct. The older you get the faster time flies. The first day of Fall is just around the corner and of course on its coattails the barrage of holidays we all love or dread. They arrive either way. I had not thought I would be putting a Halloween idea in September, but I find when walking my mama's dogs so many people have been doing house upgrades throughout time at home due to Covid and there a treasure trove of wood scraps being put out for free.

Once school starts up any semblance of calm disappears, last minute supplies for Halloween can not only be pricey, they can also be hard to come by if one waits too long. I will go ahead and make a guess that if you are reading this you are most likely an adult and so I figure why not throw out a fun idea ahead of time when one can pick up parts needed by walking around, scraps from projects left in the garage or pallet pieces.

A simple piece of wood with a notch cut out can be fashioned into a spooky or sweet cat and kiddos can paint the eyes themselves or cut out and glue felt. If indoors that is all that is needed for simple and cool decor and if you would prefer outside on the porch? Either coating with spar urethane or Shou Sugi Ban as I did on the tallest cat (which is actually white oak) will keep it safe for outdoor uses over the years. Let us also not forget nature's gifts to us; acorns! Intact they scream FALL, just finding the hats? They can easily be glued to felt balls and up the Fall vibe. Upcycled, festive and fun!

The Cloverdale Rotary Club welcomed three new members recently: Al Myers of Edward Jones, Alexa Woo of Farmers Insurance and Debbie Howell of Alexander Valley Healthcare are greeted by Membership Chair Ann Elston as President Jim Novak looks on.

Cloverdale Memories Gary Murray

I'm a long-time resident of our little town. My Family started West in 1811 from up-state New York and my Great Grandparents arrived in Cloverdale in 1855, My other Grandparents went on to Yorkville and Anderson Valley. Anderson Valley was named after them per the Anderson Valley Historical and a book they have on the History of Anderson Valley.

Growing up in Cloverdale in the 60's was priceless. We always found something to do.

Pictured are me and my buddies in August of 1965. Deer Season had just opened. We would cruise town all day long on the week-ends. From where the Owl Cafe was to Foster Freeze (now Goodwill) Bottom left is Frank Kenney, top left Jeff Wolfe, right top me Gary N. Murray, below me Leon Evans and a HUGE ELK HEAD. Frank's dad owned Joe's Bar where the Plaza is now. He had this Huge Elk

Head hanging above the Bar. We took it down one week-end, put it in the back of a Jeep along with our rifles. We even put a Deer Tag on it. We covered it up with tarps making it look like we just killed this HUGE DEER - never mind that someone had spray painted one eye silver and also his nose silver as it hung in the bar. Off we went cruising. First turning around in the Owl so people would see this huge deer we had killed. But just as they got close enough, we took off through town to Foster Freeze. We had no cell phones or computers. Just an AM radio listing to KFRC 610 Doctor Donald Rose DE JAY.

The bottom photo is of Cloverdale late 20's early 30's. It would cost you $5.00 if you drove across Preston Bridge faster than a man could walk. It was a covered bridge too.

Help Grandkids Prepare for the Future

Alvin Myers and Dolph Green

Grandparents Day, Sunday September 12th, is almost here. If you're a grandparent, you may want to use this day as an opportunity to think about how you can help provide for your grandchildren's future.

For example, you could establish a 529 education savings plan, which can be used to pay for qualified expenses at colleges and at some trade and vocational schools.

You could also open a savings account for your young grandchildren. And you can encourage them to add to it by offering to match their contributions. You might also want to establish a custodial account, known as UTMA or UGMA, which can be funded with most types of investments.

And when your grandchildren become young adults, starting out in the working world, you could offer to help them with a down payment for a house. They might also benefit from some financial advice and guidance, so you might want to introduce them to a financial professional.

By helping your grandchildren at different points on their road through life, you can make their journey more pleasant – and, in the process, you'll gain a lot of satisfaction, too.

Busting COVID Vaccine & Testing Myths

Myths abound regarding the COVID vaccine. Alexander Valley Healthcare (AVH), Cloverdale's wellness and primary care center partner, is here to bust myths and keep us all healthy. Here are the facts:

Boosters: As of 8/18/2021, the CDC recommends EVERYONE who had an mRNA vaccine should receive a third dose of the vaccine eight months after their second dose. For example, if you had your second Moderna dose in February, the earliest you're eligible for the booster is the first week in October. Pfizer and Moderna vaccines are both mRNA vaccines. Like a recipe, the mRNA vaccine instructs our bodies to recognize the virus and to make antibodies to fight it. You will likely be protected from the virus but if you do get it, symptoms will be lessened, or absent.

What about the Johnson & Johnson (J&J) Janssen vaccine?

The J&J Janssen vaccine was released in the U.S. in March 2021. It is based on a harmless version of a different virus to deliver information to the body that helps protect you. No recommendation for a J&J booster dose has been released. Go to <https://www.cdc.gov> for more information.

Which vaccine should I get for the booster? Your third dose should be the same brand as the first and second.

Oh no, I forgot what brand of vaccine I got the first time!

That's ok! All COVID vaccines administered in the state of California are registered in the state's vaccine database. Call or come into Alexander Valley Healthcare for your vaccine record.

Where can I get a booster? Various entities provide the public with boosters including AVH. Check for dates and times and schedule your booster appointment at: www.alexandervalleyhealthcare.org

You can still get a booster vaccine from AVH, even if you are not an AVH patient or did not receive your initial COVID vaccine from AVH. AVH is here to support our wonderful patients and community in conquering this pandemic.

Where can I get tested for COVID? Free testing at AVH is available by appointment for anyone. Call 894-4229 to request a COVID test appointment.

Visit www.alexandervalleyhealthcare.org for up-to-date COVID information.

Creamy Lemon Chicken

This is a great sauce that has a very creamy texture without butter. It can be used on chicken, fish or veggies. I serve it with pasta or rice but a nice salad can work as well

Ingredients

- Two chicken breasts boneless & skin off
- ¼ cup olive oil
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ½ cup vegetable stock or water can be used
- One large egg yolk
- ½ cup chopped garlic & parsley mixed well
- Flour for dredging

Lay the chicken on a flat surface and cut horizontally and open the chicken like a book

Lightly salt and pepper each side then dredge in flour.

Heat the olive oil in a sauce pan large enough to fit the chicken comfortably. Place the floured chicken and brown on each side about ten minutes on medium heat making sure not to burn the flour.

Add the garlic & parsley mixture and veggie stock, mix well. Cover and simmer for ten minutes

While that cooks, add the egg yolk to the lemon juice and mix very well with a pinch of salt

Uncover the chicken and add the lemon mixture stirring to insure it mixes well. The sauce will start to thicken quickly. If is too thick add a little veggie stock. Let simmer for a minute or two.

Six Ways a Vehicle Can Start a Wildfire

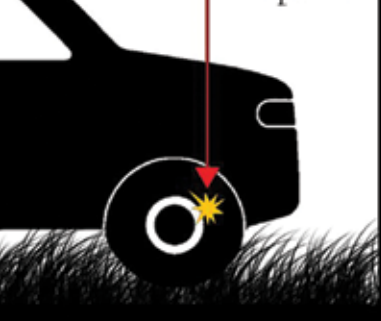

Exhaust Sparks - OHVs and dirt bikes must be equipped with spark arrestors.

Dragging Metal - Ensure that trailer chains and other equipment are not dragging.

Brakes - Severely worn brake pads cause metal on metal contact throwing sparks.

Tire Pressure - Under inflated tires may compress causing wheel to road/trail contact throwing sparks.

Hot Engine - Never park or drive over dry vegetation. Hot components may ignite grasses and brush.

Catalytic Converter - And other exhaust components can ignite fuels they come in contact with. They can also fail and propel white-hot pieces of metal over the terrain.
