PRE-EVACUATION PREPARATION STEPS

When an evacuation is anticipated, follow these checklists (if time allows) to give your home the best chance of surviving a wildfire:

OUTSIDE THE HOUSE

- 1 Gather up flammable items from the exterior of the house and bring them inside (patio furniture, children's toys, door mats, trash cans, etc.) or place them in your pool.
- 2 Turn off propane tanks.
- 3 Move propane BBQ appliances away from structures.
- 4 Connect garden hoses to outside water valves or spigots for use by firefighters. Fill water buckets and place them around the house.

- 5 Don't leave sprinklers on or water running; they can affect critical water pressure.
- 6 Leave exterior lights on so your home is visible to firefighters in the smoke or darkness of night.
- 7 Put your Emergency Supply Kit in your vehicle.
- 8 Back your car into the driveway with vehicle loaded and all doors and windows closed. Carry your car keys with you.
- 9 Have a ladder available and place it at the corner of the house for firefighters to quickly access your roof.
- 10 Seal attic and ground vents with pre-cut plywood or commercial seals.
- 11 Monitor your property and the fire situation. Don't wait for an evacuation order if you feel threatened and need to leave.
- 12 Check on neighbors and make sure they are preparing to leave.

INSIDE THE HOUSE

- 13 Shut all windows and doors, leaving them unlocked.
 - 14 Remove flammable window shades and curtains. Close metal shutters.
 - 15 Move flammable furniture to the center of the room, away from windows and doors.
 - 16 Shut off gas at the meter. Turn off pilot lights.
 - 17 Leave your lights on so firefighters can see your house under smoky conditions.
 - 18 Shut off the air conditioning.
 - 19 Locate your pets and keep them nearby.
 - 20 Prepare farm animals for transport and think about moving them to a safe location early.

TOO HOT!

Vehicle owners tend to forget how important the engine's cooling system is until a coolant-related problem occurs that leads to overheating and an expensive tow. With proper maintenance of the cooling system remaining one of the most neglected areas on most vehicles, it should come as little surprise that cooling system failures are the leading cause of mechanical breakdowns on the highway. To avoid this potentially catastrophic situation, automobile owners are encouraged to have their cooling systems flushed every two years to remove contaminated coolant and replace it with a proper mix of additive-rich fluid that will ensure that the engine will operate at the proper temperature. Can't remember the last time you had your coolant flushed? Give us a call! Our ASE-certified technicians can provide your car with the preventative care that it needs to catch small things, like contaminated coolant fluid, before they become big problems.

Ruth Guritz Anderson

Ruth Guritz Anderson passed away on March 26, 2022, at her home for over fifty years in Cloverdale, with her family by her side. Ruth was the 2nd of four daughters born to Herman and Maggie (Kalmbrunn) Guritz in Middletown Township, Jackson County, MN, on July 10, 1926. Described as an animal lover and a no-nonsense Minnesota girl, with a playful side, she was always up to mischief with her sisters. Ruth graduated from Jackson High School, and while working at the Hutchinson Agency in Jackson, she met her future husband, Dr. G. O. Anderson (Doc), a local veterinarian. They were married in 1957.

In 1966 the Andersons moved to Yreka, CA and then in 1970's, to Cloverdale, establishing the Cloverdale Animal Hospital. Ruth worked by Doc's side for over thirty-four years, running the animal hospital on Cherry Creek Road.

Ruth raised Burmese cats and later became bitten by the "traveling bug." Highlights of her travels included a trip to Australia and cruises to Alaska and the Panama Canal.

Ruth is survived by her sister, Sandy (Harold Walton) in MN, her daughter Andrea L. Anderson and Andrea's partner Chris Edgell (Ruth's favorite Sports Buddy) of Cloverdale, CA. and many nieces and nephews in the San Francisco Bay area and MN.

Ruth was preceded in death by her husband, her parents, two sisters, Marie and Hermene, and their spouses.

Andrea said the day after Ruth passed away, so did her very last Burmese cat. Andrea believes Mom swept by and gathered her pet to go to heaven with. In her later years, Mom became an avid reader. "A book a day--- although we thought we had taken all books/books on tape back, I received an email on Sunday that a book was due: Everything Here is Beautiful. I'm taking that as a sign as well. Ruth was known for her response, "exactly true", said Andrea.

The family would like to thank her caregivers, especially Makelesi Taoi and Cindy Swanson, who helped make Ruth's wish to remain in her home a reality. At Mom's request, there will be no services.

These Boots Are Made for Working Michele Armanino

"If I want to be successful, I look for two things in a town," says Ronnie Campos, co-owner of The Outpost, a work western store in Cloverdale, "high school football on Friday nights and church bells on Sunday morning." Ronnie, his wife, Brandi and their two sons, Jacob and Ricky run a family business selling boots and work western wear to "people who get their hands dirty." as Ronnie proudly states. "These are our customers." The Outpost supplies the multitude of workers laboring in the wine and construction industry with comfortable, quality boots and clothing that make their jobs just a little easier.

Cloverdale residents Ronnie and Brandi are no strangers themselves to hard work. Ronnie was raised in his grandfather's clothing store in Lakeport where he did every job imaginable. In 1992, at just twenty-two years old, he launched his own business, Ronnie's Basics, in Ukiah, selling snowboards and water skis. "I'm very sentimental," says Ronnie, "I wanted to build a store like my Grandfather Frank's - a store just like the one I grew up in." Brandi ran her family-owned pharmacies in Lakeport for twenty-nine years until the family sold in 2019. At one point, the Campos thought they would retire to Utah, but Ronnie said the lure of opening a work western store in Cloverdale was just too strong. "I kept hearing Cloverdale ringing in my ears!"

The Campos lend authenticity to the Outpost by studying the quality of their products (brands include Danner, Timberline Pro, Wrangler and more) and getting to know their customers.

"Blundstone, an Australian Chelsea boot, is a success because it's an excellent boot for winery workers as they're easy to put on, take off and they're waterproof." remarks Ronnie. "Hey, Dude!" is not just a friendly greeting at the Outpost - it's one of the store's most popular feather-weight, western style slip on shoe for those aged 16-60! "They fly out the door!" comments Brandi. And you'll see lots of Cloverdadians cruising around town in Salty Crew apparel, a fun clothing line which includes baseball caps, t-shirts, pants and more.

Cloverdaleians Support World Relief for Refugees

All the uncertainty in today's world has created desperate situations for refugees not seen in a long time. With the current war against Ukraine and the change in regime in Afghanistan, people are fleeing dangerous living conditions and seeking the safety of refuge in other places. These two catastrophes have dominated the news during the past year but there are also many other refugee situations happening around the world.

Rooted and Grounded in Love!
Two churches team up to support refugees.

Good Shepherd Episcopal Church and the United Church of Cloverdale have joined to form a team called "United Shepherds". Individuals have chosen different challenges to support this effort to raise awareness and money. The Revs. Bob and Tim plan to hike and walk, Dana has pledged $5.00 per book read, Becky has pledged to hike, Lavonne & Jim will swim, and The Rev. Jane is knitting.

None of us can imagine the myriad of things that weigh down refugees and immigrants and challenge them every day. When refugees arrive in the United States, they have very little - 2 pieces of checked luggage per person and their hand-baggage. So, when they arrive, they need almost everything from housing to clothing to furniture to household items. And since frequently only one member of the family (usually the man) speaks English - they need lots of help in navigating our system and finding a job.

Please help us support World Relief by making a donation to the United Shepherds team. The process is fast, easy and secure. Contact Good Shepherd Episcopal Church or United Church for more information.

Prom season is here and Juniors on ASB are working overtime to give CHS students a "roaring 20's" night to remember. It will be hosted at Alexander Valley Hall from 7:00pm to 11:00pm, tickets on sale for students now.

As the school year comes to a close, spring testing begins-California state standardized testing (CAASPP) has officially commenced for our seniors and juniors, alongside the 'garden project' hosted by farm to table teacher, Angelica Fernandes. Students are repurposing old truck tires into planter boxes accompanied by a drip line irrigation system for incoming crops of vegetables and herbs.

Our CHS track team has been doing wonderfully this season with the largest number of teammates it's seen yet. Recent highlight performances include freshman Logan Glassons' breaking of schoolwide record for triple jump with a 36½ foot landing and Dylan Lyon's 20 foot PR getting the leading throw in Discus of 124 feet.

The Creative Corner
Christy Latchford

Spring is officially in the air, Citrus Fair has come and gone and we have even gotten some desperately needed rain. As excited as I am about all of those things, the recent tax and property tax season has also hit, so creativity on a budget has been on my mind, a lot. My husband and I have also added 2 new kittens to the mix and as it has been over 12 years since I last experienced one, being prepared to protect my plants was not foremost in my mind.

So for those who have fallen into kitten season and, like me, are perhaps wondering how to keep our green lengthy leafed friends safe, kittens or not, many a plant goes through a growth spurt that can require a bit of support while becoming more hearty. Enter in an item if we don't all own at least one, we have seen out front of ACE or Grocery Outlet on the reg; tomato cages.

Now luckily tomato planting season is upon us so they are readily available and no matter where you find them, they are typically quite reasonable. So I got thinking, why couldn't I transform these often forgotten reminders of seasons past and utilize them in a new way? Could this maybe be an excuse to play with the bolt cutters? Oh yes!

Three little snips and a couple coats of Rustoleum paint that works on plastic and my ridiculously bright green cage leftover from not only tomatoes, but Christmas decor are ready to be transformed. I chose matte black as I wanted them to disappear in our plant, not be the main focus and voila - minimal cost, maximum result - handled!

What Foods You Can and Can't Pack for Your Next Flight

You can take pretty much any kind of food on to a plane, per TSA rules—you'll just hit trouble the closer the foods are to a liquid.

Airport security's requirements comes down to a few simple guidelines. "If you can spill it, spread it, spray it, pump it, or pour it, then it's considered a liquid or gel," That means it falls under the 3-1-1 liquids rule, which mandates that any liquid, gel, cream, aerosol, or paste in a carry-on must be 3.4 ounces or less, and fit in one quart-size resealable bag (only one such bag is allowed per passenger) except hand sanitizer up to 12 ounces, single bottle. This includes alcoholic beverages.

If it's spreadable, like cream cheese, peanut butter, or Nutella, then as a carry-on means packing in line with that 3-1-1 liquids rule explained above (unless it's in a sandwich, in which case you should be fine.) Solid cheese, solid chocolate and, well, solid peanuts, are treated as dry snacks and allowed in your cabin bag without limit.

Meats, and eggs whether cooked, raw, whole, or sliced, are fine to bring onboard your flight.

Jiggly and pourable foods must be in checked luggage. These include gravy, containers of frosting, jams, jellies, soft butter, honey, syrups, salsa, dips, chutney, spreads, soup, pudding, salad dressing, etc.

Still not finding your answer? Check online at <https://www.tsa.gov/travel/security-screening/whatcanibring/all>

Checked bags aren't party to the liquid rules of carry-on luggage, so liquids and foods like honey, salsa, jam, and creamy cheese—the ones that fall into that questionable gray area between a liquid and solid and won't be let through at TSA security checkpoints—are always best checked.

Please note, these are TSA security rules, not airline rules.

Carly Lewis is a fifth-grade teacher at Washington school. Her goal has always been to foster a love for learning in her students, even the reluctant learners. There is no greater joy than to see her students having fun and realizing they are actually engaging with the curriculum. She takes an interactive approach to teaching and oftentimes, if you walk into her class, it may seem chaotic. If you look a little closer you will see that students are buzzing with ideas and discussing the content, whether it is the Era of Exploration, Westward Expansion, or how to add and subtract fractions. Mrs. Lewis looks forward to many more years of teaching and living in Cloverdale and getting to see her little fifth graders grow into successful adults.

It's that time of year again and the City of Cloverdale wants you to be prepared for emergencies that have the potential to impact our community. As part of the city's outreach strategy, City Staff will be publishing a three-part series focusing on the essential components of emergency readiness: Awareness, Preparedness, and Activation. The goal is to ensure that every resident, regardless of their race, age, health, mobility, socio economic condition and primary language has a strong understanding of the steps they can take before, and during, an emergency to protect the health and well-being of their household, staff, clients, and immediate neighbors.

I. PUBLIC SAFETY POWER SHUTOFFS (PSPS)

Given the continued and growing threat of extreme weather and wildfires, and as an additional precautionary measure following the 2017 and 2018 wildfires, PG&E began the process of expanding and enhancing their Community Wildfire Safety Program to further reduce wildfire risks and help keep their customers and the communities safe. These measures include expanding their Public Safety Power Shutoff program to include all electric lines that pass through high fire-threat areas – both distribution and transmission. The City of Cloverdale has already experienced PSPS events which are likely to continue for many years and residents are encouraged to prepare themselves for anticipated future events.

Residents should be aware that:

- These shutoffs could last anywhere from 2-5 days after the event.
- While no single factor decides when a shutoff will occur, conditions PG&E will consider include red flag warnings, low humidity levels generally below 20%, sustained winds above 25 mph and gusts more than 45 mph. Additionally, conditions of dry fuel and observations by PG&E crews on the ground can be determining factors for shutoffs.
- Residents are encouraged to be prepared now and have a safety plan in place to take care of their own needs during a PSPS shutoff and not wait until they are called.
- Things you should consider in preparation for a PSPS shutoff include; a supply of emergency drinking water, cash, full fuel tanks in your vehicles, non-perishable food sources and plans for charging medical equipment and cellular devices.

For more detailed information on preparations for a shutoff visit PG&E's website at pge.com/wildfiresafety.

Vandalism at City Parks

Parks Superintendent Héctor Galván reported that there has been an increase in vandalism and graffiti at local parks. Parks staff recently responded to significant graffiti at Clark Park and vandalism of park facilities at Furber Park.

At Furber Park, Vandals damaged a secured water irrigation valve that resulted in the loss of several hundred gallons of water as well as locked facilities maintained by Cloverdale Youth Soccer. At Clark Park, graffiti marred park signage and the play structure. The repair work cost City Staff significant time repairing the damage. Repairing the damage takes staff time away from other critical park maintenance efforts by City Staff and the unnecessary expenditure of city funds to repair the damage.

Residents are encouraged to keep an eye out and report any suspicious activity immediately to the Cloverdale Police Department by calling the Cloverdale Police Department's non-emergency line at (707) 894-2150.

CLOVERDALE RESIDENTS CAN NOW RECEIVE REAL TIME PUBLIC SAFETY MESSAGES THROUGH... NIXLE

The Cloverdale Police Department has partnered with Nixle to upgrade and implement its Community Notification System to alert residents in real-time for localized emergency situations and relevant community advisories.

AS A RESIDENT, THERE ARE SEVERAL SIMPLE WAYS TO REGISTER:

- Text your ZIPCODE to 888777 from your mobile phone
- Go to City of Cloverdale and sign up via the Nixle Widget
- To receive messages in Spanish, text the letters ESP to 888777

Once registered, residents will receive a confirmation text to their mobile device. Residents are encouraged to customize their alert settings by going to www.nixle.com and creating a User Profile. While in the profile screen residents can select the option to receive community messages that are designed specifically for non-emergency activities taking place in the Cloverdale Community.

Planning Commissioner Recruitment

The City of Cloverdale is seeking applications for people interested in serving on the Planning Commission. The Planning Commission is comprised of five regular members. The Commission is made up of citizens who have been appointed by the City Council, for a four-year term, to review matters related to planning and development. In addition to the five regular members, two resident alternate commissioners serve for a term of two (2) years.

The Commission holds regularly scheduled meetings to consider land use matters including such things as the General Plan, Specific Plans, rezonings, use permits, and subdivisions. Planning Commission meetings are typically held the first Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m. at the Cloverdale Performing Arts Center located at 209 N Cloverdale Boulevard.

Facts from the Past ~ Kay Wells

The next few months columns will be filled with the early farming experiences just south of Cloverdale off Dutcher Creek Road, as described by Ann Amaroli Gillis in her memoir. Self-described as Cloverdale's Hugging Grandma, Ann recently passed away at the age of 101, leaving behind a treasure trove of written stories about her family's experiences on the farm and in Cloverdale. She bequeathed these stories to our Historical Society Library to be shared and enjoyed by us all, with the family's permission.

Dutcher Creek Road

Surely, you've driven on scenic Dutcher Creek Road towards Dry Creek Road, perhaps on your way to wineries or Warm Springs Dam and Lake Sonoma. It was not always so pleasant a drive. Back in the 1920s, the Amarolis bought property just off this five-mile wilderness road with innumerable chuckholes and dangerous curves causing several fatal accidents. The only regular traffic was the Geyserville school bus and the mailman. During the rainy season, Ann's father was hired to fill the holes with gravel from nearby gravel pits, using Babe, their horse and a wagon, and to keep the ditches clear of slide debris. One of Ann's chores was to herd their cows alongside the road to greener pasture. They often tried to run ahead, so Ann used a stick to keep them in line. It was an all-day chore. In 1972, the county realigned the road and took out the dangerous curves, because the Warm Springs Dam was being constructed and a decent road was needed to bring tourists to Cloverdale.

Stay tuned for details about Ann's very busy life as a farm child in a future issue of Cloverdale Connect.

International 49er Skiff Sailors

Hans Henken ~ Cloverdale Resident

My sailing partner, Ian Barrows, and I are training and competing full-time together in pursuit of representing the United States at the 2024 Olympic Games in Paris, France and bringing home a Gold Medal.

We race a high performance two-person sailboat called the International 49er Skiff and we are the current US National Champions, North American Champions and we are currently ranked 4th in the world from our 4th place finish at the 2021 World Championships.

Featured along with this article are a few photos from the 51st Annual Princesa Sofia Mallorca World Sailing World Cup event. This is the first international sailing event of the 2022 season. Ian and I finished 2nd in the 49er Division and received the silver medal.

We are both members of the United States Sailing Team and you can visit the nation team website here: <https://www.ussailing.org/olympics/teams/> We also have a website with more information on each of our back stories, as well as our blog and schedule for the year, www.barrowshenkenracing.com and we are on facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/BarrowsHenkenRacing>

Ian and I are looking for sponsors who are interested in joining our team in pursuit of Gold at the Olympics Games and who are willing to help support us with campaign related expenses such as equipment purchases, travel and accommodation. We have partnered with a 501(C)(3) Foundation called the Windmark Sailing Foundation which allows our current sponsors to receive a tax deduction for their donations. I am more than happy to send along more details and information about our Olympic campaign. A list of our sponsors and some information can be found here: <https://barrowshenkenracing.com/sponsors/>

One of many ways we are able to give back to our sponsors is through advertisements on our sailing equipment (on our sails, and boat), team clothing and of course on our social media, newsletter, and website.

They (Rockin A) are my type of coffee makers! Roaster/coffee shops all have different flavor profiles with their beans (much like wineries and their winemaking style) and the coffee blends Rockin A uses are exactly what I prefer! I'm there AT LEAST 3-4 times a week!

Nicole Hinchcliffe

I stopped at Rockin A for a latte. I'm not a huge coffee drinker but a latte sounded tasty. The bad part? We had to wait three minutes for them to be made. Their lattes are very tasty & not bitter that I find with espresso drinks. Cheers Cloverdale

David Maciel

Thank you, Ray's! The other day I had to do major shopping for our household and I had 0 energy to drive to Safeway. I went to Ray's and they had everything I needed. Although I wasn't happy with how much I paid, I realized it was really only a small difference of savings at Safeway. After I consider the gas & energy I put into driving there and back. I prefer the Ray's meat selection over Safeway. And just like with ANY store, always check the dates. Shop local

Angela Cordova

I would like to highly recommend Lara Steel and Concrete for the wonderful work they did in my yard. They replaced my back fence and took my flagstone and set it in concrete. Also as a bonus they had rebuilt my side gate and added on a front porch gate. The side gate needed a little adjustment and now it looks like it should. I am so happy with their work. These young men did an excellent job, hard-working, dependable, reasonable rates, nice and very accommodating. If you need work done, please contact them. AND they are here in our own town of Cloverdale. check them out on Facebook.

Elaine Gregg

Just want to say Thank You to Picks for allowing different options for payments!!! Parents are going 100 different directions and accepting Venmo is huge! Whisker Talk

Brigid Wasson, First Street Pets

"Helping pet lovers live their best life"

We live in a wasteful world. From clothing to electronics to food and drink containers, most things we buy are not made to last or to re-use and are soon discarded and replaced. Watch any documentary on the garbage crisis to see the impact this has on our environment and economy. What can pet owners do to reduce this impact while meeting their animals' needs?

- 1) Buy quality. That nylon leash or collar at the dollar store may be cheap, but it won't last and might even be unsafe. A better quality product from a pet supply shop like Clover Dog will likely last for years, so you reduce waste and get your money's worth.
- 2) Buy in bulk. Plastic bags containing pet foods are not biodegradable. Buying many small bags increases waste and costs more. Compare any item like bread, cereal, etc. in the grocery store and you will see that many products are cheaper in larger quantities.
- 3) Waste management. Recology recently put out a directive to reduce landfill waste and divert more trash to the green bin. Most cat litters like clump or clay must be wrapped in plastic and placed in the garbage. Used wood pellet litter can be composted as long as you scoop out the poop. Neither dog nor cat poop can be composted, but there are home septic systems you can try.
- 4) Toys. Pet toys can be quite expensive and last only minutes, especially with an active chewer! You can make many toys yourself from rope, toilet paper tubes, boxes, balls, paper sacks, and anything else you have around the house. When you buy toys, choose things that will last like Kongs or toys made from canvas or leather.

We'd love to hear your ideas for eco-friendly pet care.

For The Record

Love is Love

Every February issue, we invite anyone in a loving relationship to send in a photo to Cloverdale Connect so we can honor them in the Love Album. That invitation goes out to everyone via promotional mentions in Cloverdale Connect and on social media via Instagram and Facebook.

Recently we had someone suggest that Cloverdale Connect was "heterocentric" because no LGBTQ+ people were represented in those photos. As with any of the invitations to participate in Cloverdale Connect, we include everyone and we exclude no one. Peace.

Cloverdale Senior Multipurpose Center Melanie Hall

I recently presented to the Cloverdale Kiwanis Club and the Cloverdale Rotary Club about what the Senior Center was doing pre-Covid, during Covid, and now. The mission of CSMC is to provide Cloverdale Residents with activities, support, resources, and services that encourage participation in community life, promote well-being and independence, and enhance dignity.

Before Covid, we had physical activities and skill-building classes such as Yoga, Chair Yoga, Strength Training, Qi Gong Practice, Autobiographical Writing, Cooking, Bingo, Bunco, and much more; this continues now. We had special events and workshops, Craft Fairs, Holiday Teas, Card Parties, and Art Classes. Community-based information workshops; COPE Readiness, end-of-life planning, emergency preparedness, senior resources, HICAP (Medicare insurance), Sonoma County Legal Aid, Sonoma County Job Link Services, etc.

We have a Senior Technology Loan Program and Medical Equipment Loan Program. The tech program, developed during Covid, was intended to help senior isolation; a grant provided the funding. We collaborate for services with SOS Counseling, which provides mental health services to Cloverdale at our site. Dr. Kunda continues to offer Podiatry appointments monthly, and we work with Redwood Empire Food Bank to distribute food to our community weekly, sometimes multiple times a week.

During Covid, we remained open as a resource but closed to the public; we were here Monday-Friday, 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m. We started a Connect Program where volunteers regularly called everyone in our membership to help with the feeling of isolation during the shelter-in-place orders. This communication also served to help find out what our senior's needs were in regards to transportation. We facilitated fifty community volunteers assisting others in running errands, picking up/delivering groceries and medication, and providing rides to medical/dental appointments.

We pursued fresh meals through Sonoma Family Meals and distributed thousands of meals, with many of the meals being home delivered by volunteers. We also worked with Farm to Pantry, Farmers to Families, Council on Aging (Meals on Wheels), and Redwood Empire Food Bank to provide more food security in our community. In addition, we pursued getting the Providence Mobile Clinic up to Cloverdale once a week, which continues and is now at Living Water church on Tuesdays.

Today, we are proud to continue with our classes, events, and programs for our community. Join at our biggest upcoming event July 9 to celebrate our 35th Anniversary.

Healthy Eating on a Budget Gina Berry, MS, RD, CLT DAHLIA & SAGE COMMUNITY MARKET

With inflation raging, you have likely noticed the rising cost of food. It is still possible to eat healthy even with a limited budget, but it does take a bit of planning. First, plan out your meals and make a grocery list! When planning meals, try to include each of the 5 food groups. Animal protein can be pretty pricy – don't forget about beans and lentils. Whether dry or canned, these versatile plant proteins can be added to soups, salads, chili, tacos, or grains.

Look for veggies and fruit that are in season. Not only are these usually on sale, but they are at their peak as far as nutrition, taste, and quality. Also, frozen produce can be a great alternative thanks to innovations in food processing; they are flash frozen within a few hours of harvest!

Try incorporating some new whole grains into your meals and snacks. Barley, bulgur, brown rice, quinoa, and popcorn are delicious lower cost grains packed with fiber, B vitamins, and many minerals like selenium, zinc, manganese, and magnesium.

Taste and nutrition don't have to be ruined by higher food costs. Adjust your favorite recipes to stretch your food dollars and create delicious and healthy meals!

REAL ESTATE SALES & PROPERTY MANAGEMENT

What's Growing in Your Gutters?

Anne Miserlian Baker

Have you looked in your gutters lately? Probably not. Gutters are not exactly in the line of sight.

Lucky for me, I was standing on the deck of a rental property we were pulling into service. Because the house was on built on a hillside, it stood one story above the garage. From the front porch, I was easily able to examine one gutter. Even though this home had a tile roof, rather than a gritty composition roof, there was about a quarter inch of hard packed dirt.

You might wonder, so what? Well, if allowed to remain in the gutter year after year, this dirt, along with more dirt to come, could end up costing this investor a LOT of money.

When road dirt, shingle grit, fallen leaves, bugs, algae, moss, and other growing things clog the gutters year after year, unremedied, expensive costs incur. Gutters rust and crack at the seams from the water that sits in that dirt. They then leak, often causing damage to the siding of the house. Worse, if there is a lot of debris, more debris will pile and trap water, often causing damage to the roof and eaves.

Whether it's your primary residence or an investment property, yearly maintenance is an essential part of home ownership. Even with gutter guards, gutter maintenance is imperative.

Composting Is Now The Law In Cloverdale

California state law, SB1383 requires all Cloverdale residents and businesses to compost. The Cloverdale City Council adopted an Ordinance to comply with California Senate Bill (SB1383) "Short-lived Climate Pollutants" on 3/23/22. The law requires all residents and businesses to separate organics from their garbage.

This law will reduce methane emissions from landfills and will increase the use of carbon-sinking compost, which greatly helps to combat the climate crisis.

All food-soiled paper (like paper towels or napkins) can be placed in your compost bin. Make sure the paper product does not have a lining that usually appears as a "shiny" surface. Meat and cheese can be placed in your compost cart. The compost facilities process this material at high temperatures, killing any dangerous bacteria.

It's easy to keep your compost container clean and odor-free. Pro tips include lining your food scraps container with a paper bag or newspaper (like an old issue of Cloverdale Connect), using a container with a carbon filter, emptying your food scraps container regularly into your green cart, and layering carbon-rich materials such as dried leaves in your green cart.

Anna Maria Amaroli Gillis

September 8, 1920 – February 18, 2022

Anna passed away peacefully at home with her family at her side. Born in Porretta Terme Italy, she was eleven months old when she arrived in Boston on a ship with her mother Teresa. The daughter of Attilio Amaroli and Teresa Guidotti Amaroli, she lived most of her life on a small farm on Dutcher Creek Road, where they raised turkeys, chickens, eggs, cattle, vegetables and fruit. The farm is still with the family today.

Anna attended school in a one room schoolhouse on Dutcher Creek Road, then transferred to Geyserville schools beginning in the 2nd grade. Anna was accepted to UC Berkeley and graduated in 1942 with a B.A. with a major in Languages and a minor in Home Economics. She also took a college graduate business course at Armstrong Business College.

At a dance, she met Alexander S. Gillis from Texas, who was not a good dancer, but who wanted to learn. They enjoyed dancing and continued their love of it until Al passed. Anna and Al became engaged in 1943 and married December 30, 1945.

Al and Anna moved to Dutcher Creek and he worked in the lumber mills and she did secretarial work. Having no experience, except what she learned when she worked for developer Henry Trione, Anna, Al and Anna's brothers Ralph and George built their house by hand. Then Al decided to go into the insurance business and became a Farmers Agent and needed Anna's capable assistance to run the office. She helped him for 27 years until they retired from that business. Then Anna went to work in the medical field and worked until 1997 until she was diagnosed with stomach cancer, and retired.

Anna's love of cooking was enjoyed by family and friends. Her specialty was gnocchi and she loved teaching people how to make them. She did many fundraisers for the Cloverdale Senior Center by cooking elaborate dinners along with help from friends. Those fundraisers helped build the Senior Center. The Senior Center gave Anna a 101st Birthday Party last September where she was thrilled to see all her friends.

Anna also was a strong supporter of the Cloverdale Historical Society and was a speaker for some of their events about the history of Cloverdale. Her life story is on file at the History Center.

Anna's passion was painting, which she called her therapy. She served on various art groups and was Cloverdale's representative to the Sonoma County Arts Council for ten years. Anna was still painting daily until her fall.

Anna is survived by her loving daughter Shirley and her "favorite" son-in-law Gary and her beloved granddaughter Cara and partner Adam plus nieces Jackie Kennedy (Jeff), Aileen Reeves (David), and Lisa Amaroli; nephews Thomas Amaroli (Gisella) and Paul Amaroli; great nieces and nephews and a large extended family in Italy. She was preceded in passing by husband of almost 70 years, Alexander Gillis; her brothers Ralph Amaroli (Theadora) and George Amaroli (Marilan).

Donations in Anna's memory may be made to the Cloverdale Senior Center or to the Cloverdale Historical Society.

A celebration of Anna Maria's life will be held May 21, 2022 at the Cloverdale Veteran's Memorial Building, 205 W. First St., Cloverdale from noon until 3pm. Please RSVP to the Cloverdale Senior Center (707-894-4826) before 4pm May 13.

Remembering Stephen Lenn Weigt on this Memorial Day

Al Delsid

Memorial Day is the time for us to remember the service and sacrifice of all veterans who are now gone and we especially remember and honor the service and sacrifice of SP4 Stephen Lenn Weigt who gave up his life for his fellow soldiers and his beloved country.

Stephen Lenn Weigt was born on October 14, 1947 to Louis and Maude Weigt in Hillsboro, Oregon. In 1954, the Weigt family moved to Cloverdale where Steve began attending school in Cloverdale from second grade up through his freshman year in high school, dropping out before his sophomore year began. Steve would also be the typical big brother who would keep an eye on his younger brother Jim and his friends. They called themselves the "River Rats" and would usually hang out and have fun along the river and especially at the First Falls area on Sulphur Creek.

Steve enlisted in the U.S. Army on January 20, 1967 and immediately went through his basic training and was sent to Vietnam. Steve's tour of duty began on January 25, 1968 where he was assigned to the 18th Engineer Brigade as a heavy vehicle driver.

Steve served honorably and eventually completed his first tour in Vietnam but decided to serve an additional 6-months.

Before starting his second tour of duty, Steve was given an opportunity to come home for a short time in December 1968. Steve returned to Vietnam to serve his 6 months and hopefully get out of the military a few months earlier. In the early hours of March 21, 1969, his sector was viciously attacked by enemy forces. SP4 Stephen L. Weigt responded with heavy volumes of machine gun fire. He continued this fierce fire fight for one hour while enemy mortars, rockets, hand grenades, automatic weapon rounds were coming in. Stephen L. Weigt was hit, suffering multiple fragmentation wounds and was killed in action in the Kontum Province, South Vietnam. Steve served a total of 15 months in Vietnam. He was posthumously awarded the Bronze Star medal with a "V" device for Valor, the Purple Heart, the Army Commendation Medal for heroism, National Defense Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal and the Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal.

Stephen L. Weigt was buried with military honors next to his parents at the Oak Mound Cemetery in Healdsburg.

Water Saving Outdoor Irrigation Tips

Spring season irrigation Tips from City Arborist Hector Galvan

"Drought is Here Save Water" signs have been placed throughout Cloverdale city parks and landscape areas. This effort is to spread word throughout our community to start looking into the ways to save water during this 3rd consecutive dry year.

This time of year, plants and trees need little to no water depending on species and soils condition.

Irrigation Tips for Saving Water

- Perform a complete inventory of your garden and remove dead plants that did not endure winter conditions or last years drought
- Turn off irrigation to plants mentioned in first bullet point

- Turn down irrigation times to trees and large drought tolerant shrubbery
- Reduce all irrigation systems to shorter watering cycles to avoid run off
- Make sure the irrigation controller is set to the local mandatory stage 4- 35% water reduction ordinance

City Arborist Hector Galvan can provide additional information about how to utilized water efficiently within your landscapes areas. Hector can be reached at (707) 894-1707 or by e-mail at hgalavan@ci.clvoerdale.ca.us

For additional outdoor irrigation tips, vist the Sonoma Marin Water Savings Partnership website.

With the warmer weather I turn my attention to the BBQ & grill. This rolled flank steak is a great idea for a two with plenty of leftovers or parties.

Rolled Flank Steak with Prosciutto and Basil

- 1 cup coarse dry bread crumbs
- ½ cup chopped flat-leaf parsley
- ½ cup shredded Italian Fontina cheese (3 ounces)
- ¼ cup green olives, pitted and chopped (1½ ounces)
- ¼ cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese (¾ ounce)
- 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 tablespoon plus 2 teaspoons finely chopped thyme
- One 2-pound flank steak
- 5 ounces thinly sliced prosciutto
- 1 cup basil leaves
- 2 teaspoons kosher salt
- 2 teaspoons minced garlic
- 1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper

Light BBQ grill or preheat oven 350°. In large bowl, combine bread crumbs with parsley, Fontina, olives, Parmesan, 2 TBS of olive oil and 1 TBS of thyme.

Lay steak on work surface with a short edge facing you. Using a long, sharp knife, make a horizontal cut in a long side of the steak to within ½ inch of the opposite edge. Open the flank steak like a book.

Cover cut side of the steak with prosciutto slices, then top with layer of basil leaves. Spread the bread crumb mixture on top. Tightly roll up the steak around the filling. Using kitchen string, tie roll in 4 or 5 places.

In a small bowl, combine remaining 1 tablespoon of olive oil and 2 teaspoons of thyme with salt, garlic and pepper. Rub mixture over rolled steak.

Bank coals to one side of grill or turn off one side of grill. Grill steak over high heat until browned all over, turning steak 4 times as it cooks. Move meat away from direct heat and grill for 15 to 20 minutes, or until instant thermometer registers 120° to 125° for medium rare. Or, heat a large ovenproof skillet. Add rolled steak and cook over high heat until browned all over, 8 to 10 minutes. Transfer skillet to oven, roast steak for 20 to 30 minutes, or until instant thermometer registers 120° to 125° for medium rare. Transfer steak to carving board, cover loosely with foil, let rest for 10 minutes. Discard strings, slice the steak crosswise ½ inch thick. Serve.

Cloverdale Performing Arts Center presents PHASES

Mendocino Dance Project's most recent work, PHASES, is a dynamic duet that explores themes related to life during this strange and unusual time. PHASES is focused around joy, frustration, humor, isolation, and a sort of settling into a new way of living. The past two years have divided us and brought us together in unexpected ways and this show is an offering to this collective experience that we have shared.

Choreographed and danced by: Kara Starkweather and Natalie Thiel

Tickets are $25 for general admission and $12 for students--available at the door or online. One performance only. Friday, May 20th, 7:30 PM.
